In accordance with our usual custom, The Board of Directors will not be seeking independence from the company. We are seeking from the Board of Directors the following:

Administration revenue bill are not out of the question.

The expense incident to the Mexican emergency already provided for or estimated approximately $125,000,000. This, as well as any further expense would be covered in the proposed bond issue.

Authority to issue bonds may not be sought from congress if the treasury surplus is large enough. This should be known today. At the close of business yesterday at was $174,171,845 and prospects were that it would be increased to more than $200,000,000.

The administration omnibus revenue bill, which will raise $210,000,000 was ready for introduction in the house today. The democratic leaders plan to begin consideration of the measure on the house next Thursday under a special rule providing for a final vote before adjournment Saturday.

ALLIES DRIVE GERMANS BACK

action for the supreme effort to break the German lines. More than 1,000,000 shells are declared to have been fired daily in the preliminary bombardment which extended over a front 50 miles in length.

The allies are now on the offensive in practically every field of the war. The British assault comes on the heels of the great successes won by the Russians in Galicia and Bukovina which have resulted in completely driving the Austrians from Belukina and are still continuing. On the Italian front the Central powers have also met with severe reverses and for several days the Italians have been steadily driving the Austrians from positions after position in the Trentino. The defense, also offensive at Verdun seems to have stiffened and the balance in that bitterly contested sector appears recently to have swung in favor of the defenders. The great offensive undertaken by the British, officers, according to reports from the front, and the comments of critics on absolutely new departure in the tactics hitherto pursued by the belligerents.

FRENCH RETAKE THIAUMONT.

Italians Put Enemy Sea Plans to Flight.

PARIS, July 1.—The vigorous counter stroke by which the French have wrested back from the Germans the Thiaumont redoubt north of Verdun means, according to military opinion here, not only a serious loss to the enemy in position but an even more serious loss in the matter of time.

The growing activity of the British on a long line on the western front increases the odds against the Germans capturing the Meuse fortress. As the work commands the Vaux ravine without its possession the Germans cannot progress in their task of sapping the fire line defenses on the Froide Terre-Seuville front.

The French plan of attack was successfully matured in secret as no special preliminary bombardment preceded it. The French forces moved gradually and the enemy was taken as much unaware as is possible under present conditions. The dash of the storming party was so well timed and speed that its work was done before the German curtain fire could be adequately focused.

The Germans were rapidly cleared out of the trenches and defenses prepared for the inevitable counter attacks which were promptly delivered with desperate courage. Wave after wave of German infantry was dashed back by the French until, exhausted by six hours of continuous fighting they were forced to give way and the Germans once more got possession of the work.

The Frenchmen had however, held out long enough to enable fresh troops to come up and these again won back the redoubt which is now entirely in French hands. The Germans are making strenuous efforts to capture it and there was desperate fighting last night but so far the Germans have had no success.

ROME, June 30.—(via Paris)—

The following official communication was issued today:

"Italian torpedo boats and seaplanes reconnoitering in the Gulf of Trieste Tuesday were attacked by coast batteries and two groups of enemy seaplanes. The latter were put to flight and it is believed that several of the machines were hit. The Italian units returned undamaged to their base."

REGISTRATION IS SET FOR PRIMARY

Announce New Rulings as to Qualifications of Voters in 1916.

Registration for the primary election of August 8 have been set for July 28 and 29, according to the board of elections, and all new voters must register in their respective precincts at that time. Transfers may also be recorded.

In order to clear up a point of the election laws often disputed or misunderstood, announcement is made that all who will be eligible to vote in the November election are entitled to participate in the primary. In other words, any boy who will be of age on or before November 8, 1916, may vote at the primary, even though they are only twenty years old on August 8. Election day is November 7, but a ruling of the secretary of state, made five years ago, provides that any man who is within a fraction of a day of being twenty-one may be considered as having attained his majority. This means that a boy whose twenty-first birthday anniversary is on the day following the election may vote at the election, and therefore at the primary which nominates the candidates for the election.

All such new voters, however, whether they become of age before or after the primary, must register at the polling places on either July 28 or 29. The regular quadrennial registration for the presidential election will occur in October, but the new voters who expect to vote at the August primaries must register for them.

The board of elections will receive bids for the ballots for the primary July 10. As there is a change in the name of the central committee in each precinct, for each county, the ballots will require a little alteration after the tickets for each precinct are printed.

Prosecutor Has Lost Only Five Cases in the Past Year and a Half.

With a record of only five cases lost in eighteen months, Prosecuting Attorney Ortho A. Barr today turned in to Attorney General Edward C. Turner a tabulation of his work during the past year and a half. His remarkable percentage as a successful pusher of criminal cases shows fifty convictions in misdemeanor cases without a single acquittal.

CARNIVAL EMPLOYE SENT TO WORKHOUSE

Probate Judge Becker Gives Limit Sentence For Grave Offense.

Six months in the Toledo workhouse and a fine of $200 and costs compose the sentence handed by Probate Judge Fred C. Becker this morning to C. D. Furman, a Georgian employed by Smith's Greater Shows, for a statutory offense committed last night. Furman was arrested on information furnished by a girl of sixteen.

According to her story, the showman, who runs what is known as the "needle game", induced her to slip from her home late last evening, promising to elope with her and take her along as a member of the show company. Members of the family missed her, and at one o'clock this morning the girl's brother informed the police that she was missing, adding that the showman had been paying attentions to her during the carnival. Furman was arrested at two o'clock, and when it became known that the girl was under age the case was turned over to the probate court for consideration under the juvenile laws.

Judge Becker imposed a fine of $200 and costs and 180 days in the Toledo workhouse, adding that Furman should be committed to the county jail pending payment. The prisoner is 21 years old and gave his home as Georgia.

ALIMONY BIG ITEM IN COURT BUSINESS

Clerk Bowsher Has 210 Mothers on List Who Draw Allowances.

One of the interesting features of the divorce business not usually reckoned with, is the alimony question, for when the parents decide to separate, the question is, "What of the children?" These little ones must be provided for.

The court stipulates the father shall pay a certain amount of money for their care, if the children have been given into the care of the mother. The clerk of courts is designated as the trustee to receive these funds and turn them over to the mother.

D. A. Bowsher, county clerk of courts, said today that at the present time 210 mothers are receiving money from divorced husbands in Allen county for the support of their children. There is a book set apart showing receipts and disbursements of these funds.

The father comes into the office and leaves the money, taking a receipt from Clerk Bowsher. May be no later than an hour or so after, wards the mother comes in and claims the money. For she knows full well what day it is due. She must receipt for the same in the big book provided for this purpose.

Many of these women have come to this source to receive money so long they know their own page, open the book and see what amount is there for them. If there is some money, their faces light up and they are happy. If the page is blank, they walk away from the clerk's office with a sad heart. It means a greater struggle, another week of patient saving and figuring until the money does come. Some of the women telephone before they come to make sure there is money there for them.

In some of the cases these women have re-married, but more often they have not, but are exerting every effort to keep their home and their little children together, with what they can earn and the money the husband must pay. It is a big problem at that. In most cases the men re-marry, but still must support the children until they reach the legal age. Boys must be 18 and girls 16 before the pay can cease.

REGULAR ARMY IS NEEDING 500 MEN FOR MEDICAL SERVICE

Sergeant Adams in charge of the recruiting station for the regular army, located on the public square was informed this morning that 500 additional men for the medical department were needed immediately. Although instructed to try and obtain applicants for this department of military service, he is not to recruit applicants to the detriment of the line organizations.

Many benefits can be derived from service in this department. It is pointed out by the war department that after the completion of hostilities it is possible to increase the earning power by using knowledge obtained in service of the department. It is pointed out that knowledge gained should materially assist persons desiring to take up pharmacy or practice of medicine.

son administration, when the budget jumped to $151,575, a gain of more than $17,000 over the first half of the year 1915. With the exceptions of a decline in the appropriation for the city building and stationary sums in the case of hospital, library, firemen's pension and police relief, every fund is handed a boost quite at variance with the campaign pledges and economy platform utilized by the Gale-Simpson coterie during the 1915 municipal contest.

COMPANY C BOYS MAY GO SUNDAY; THEY ARE IMPATIENT

In Meantime Nothing is Too Good For Them
in Lima.

The stay of the companies attached to the Second regiment, with headquarters in Lima, is being made as pleasant as possible by business men and different fraternal orders of the city. Last night they attended a banquet at the Elks' Home as guests of that order. T. J. Mulligan presided at the affair and introduced the speakers.

Under the leadership of Lieutenant-Colonel A. E. Gale and Major John Harley of the Second regiment, the two bodies marched to the home of the order. As the long line of khaki men passed through the portals of the home, they were enthusiastically cheered by members of the lodge seated on the east side of the piazza, while the band on the west side played patriotic airs. More than 150 members of the two companies participated in the feast. Immediately following a band concert in the reception room and impromptu speeches by members of the company and officers of the order, luncheon was served to the soldier lads. Short talks were made by the following: Walter B. Richie, Harry O. Bentley, Major John Harley, Captain Creps, Lieutenants William Daley and Melvin Light, Sergeants Emmett Jackson and Melville Shreve, and Company Clerk Degel.

As compliments of the Franklin Type & Printing company, each member and officer of Company C received this morning a quantity of stationery and blotters with the letter head of the company and regiment of which they are members. Sweethearts and parents of the members will now be sure of hearing from the loved ones, when they are sent to the border.

Officers of the Second regiment are of the opinion that the order to move to the mobilization camp at Columbus will be received Sunday. It is being predicted that the actual move will be made Monday or Tuesday. Under present arrangements Adjutant-General Hough is ordering a regiment to move to the capital city each day until they are all encamped there.

The Fifth and Eighth regiments are already encamped in the capital city. The Sixth is moving there today and the Fourth has received orders to move Sunday. Supplies from the war department are being received in larger quantities each day, and necessary equipment is being distributed to the regiments as soon as they arrive on the mobilization grounds.

Tomorrow morning members of both the local companies accompanied by officers of the Second regiment, will attend Sunday school services in full uniform at the Trinity church. The invitation to the two bodies was extended by the Men's Brotherhood class. Walter B. Richie will deliver an address.

There are now 15 privates and three officers in Company C. It is necessary that they enlist 26 additional men to bring the strength of the company up to war footing, as prescribed by the war department. A number of applicants presented themselves at headquarters this morning and will be examined by Lieutenant Buchanan this afternoon. Lieutenant A. E. Gale and Major

Harley have purchased mounts which they intend to take with them to the Mexican border. During the stay in Lima the officers will daily give the horses a workout and prepare them for conditions that are likely to be met with in Mexico. When orders are received directing the Second regiment to move to Columbus, the steeds will be placed in charge of the quartermaster's department.

SCHOOL BOND ISSUE FORMALLY PASSED

Board of Education Completes Action Necessary to Submission.

At the special meeting of the members of the board of education last night it was unanimously agreed to ask for the issuance of $490,000 in bonds at the August 8 primaries. All members of the board were present at the meeting, which was adjourned after a half-hour's session.

The resolution adopted by the board includes the purchase and construction of the new high school on the south side. The building which is to include a gymnasium, auditorium and class rooms is to be located south of Kibby street and east of Main.

The bond issue will be apportioned toward the following improvements: $220,000 for the new high school building; $100,000 for improvements on the present high school building; $60,000 for additional elementary rooms, and $110,000 for repairs recommended by the state building inspector.

The McLaughlin and Huleken architect firm submitted the cost of the new building and the proposed improvements. According to their plans the school buildings of the city should compare favorably with the best in the city after the work is completed.

OHIO TROOPS TO BE MOBILIZED FIRST OF WEEK

storm. Fifth regiment men, who arrived during the storm, had to pitch their tents in the rain and sleep on ground which had been thoroughly soaked.

"Men who enlist in the Ohio national guard and go to the Mexican border in the service of their country with doubts as to how the folks at home are going to be cared for may be assured that the state of Ohio does not intend to let them down. They are properly provided for," said Governor Frank M. Willis today. He declared he had noted with a great deal of satisfaction the efforts that are being made in various parts of the state through the organization of societies to see that proper provision is made for dependents of men who have answered the call to the colors.

"Should a break occur with Mexico and the war continue for a material length of time, a state organization might be perfected through the operation of which the treasurer of state would take charge of all contributions made for the support of soldiers' dependents and distribute them as deemed advisable," continued the governor.

"Many of the men who have enlisted or are yet to enlist have small incomes and the families they will leave behind cannot but wonder where clothing and food are to come from, but before these men march off to the grand, wild music of war, I wish they could be assured through the organization in every community of the state where there are soldiers—and that would mean every community—of these charitable organizations, that those left are going to be protected against want."

The mobilization of the Ohio national guard at Camp Willis was continued today. The sixth infantry, commanded by Colonel Lloyd W. Howard of Toledo company A., of the signal corps, Toledo; the second ambulance company, Columbus; and the first field hospital, Cincinnati, were under orders to move to camp today.

The sixth has an enlistment of about 1,500 men. Its companies are located as follows:

Companies A., C., H., and L., Toledo; B., at Sandusky; D., at Fostoria; E., at Bryan; F., at Napoleon; G., at Defiance; I., at Clyde; K., at Fremont; M., at Oak Harbor.

The fourth infantry with headquarters at Columbus will probably go into camp tomorrow.

Predictions that all of the troops included in the war department orders for mobilization following President Wilson's call for the militia would be on the Mexican border within two weeks caused the citizen soldiers to take renewed interest in drills today.

Miss Mitchell will give a reading at the Masonic Temple under the auspices of Trinity Chapter No. 16, O. E. S., Wednesday evening, July 5, 8 p. m., interspersed with music and song. Friends are invited.

BETTER THAN SPANKING.

Spanking does not cure children of bedwetting. There is a constitutional cause for this trouble. Mrs. M. Summers, Box W, Notre Dame, Ind., will send free to any mother her successful home treatment, with full instructions. Send no money, but write her today if your children trouble you in this way. Don't blame the child, the chances are it can't help it. This treatment also cures adults and aged people troubled with urine difficulties by day or night.

WARNING AGAINST JULY 4TH TETANUS

U. S. Health Service Tells How to Prevent This Disease.

Back in 1905 there were 104 deaths in the United States from Fourth of July tetanus, this figure representing about the average annual mortality. In 1914, as a result of the institution of better prophylactic treatment by physicians and the widespread agitation for a safe and sane Fourth, the number was reduced to 3. A year ago the U. S. public health service expected and predicted that every youngster in the United States would be safe from this disease, having its estimate on what had already been accomplished. When the returns came in it was found that a boy down in Maine had been injured, developed tetanus and died. That single fatality was only one among several hundred thousand occurring in the United States during 1915 but it resulted from Fourth of July tetanus or lockjaw, a preventable disease, and was therefore an unnecessary death. The loss of this boy makes it necessary to again disseminate information regarding this wholly avoidable infection.

The blank cartridge wound is the great cause of Fourth of July tetanus, but injuries from crackers and firearms are at times responsible. When driven into the tissues the wadding carries with it innumerable bacilli. If these be tetanus bacilli the poisonous products of toxins resulting from their multiplication produce the disease. Tetanus bacilli thrive only in the absence of oxygen. It is for this reason that the physician enlarges the wound of entrance and after removing all foreign material dresses the injury in such a manner that development of the organisms is inhibited. In order to accomplish this it is usually necessary to administer an anesthetic. Anti-tetanic serum is of great value as a prophylactic and it should invariably be given in injuries of this character.

Parents should realize that Fourth of July tetanus is easy to prevent but extremely difficult to cure, the disease being attended with a mortality of more than 95%. No blank cartridge wound is so trivial to receive careful medical attention. However slight the injury may appear summon a competent physician who will at once institute the necessary prophylactic measures. Reliance upon home treatment may prove disastrous and result in the needless sacrifice of life.

EULOGIZING HUERTA

Henry Lane Wilson, discredited and recalled minister of Taft and Wilson at Mexico City, has rushed to offer his services to Candidate Hughes, outlining for the latter a plan of attack on the Mexican policy of the administration. After the interview Henry remarked: "If we had recognized Huerta this trouble would not have happened."

He hasn't changed a bit since he was "fired". He still insists that his first reports were right, which recalls with increased interest the manner in which he tried to make Huerta a hero. It is for this that he was thrown from his position.

Every indication tends to prove that he represented not the United States, but the promoters, land grabbers and concessionaires interested in fleecing the impoverished people. As soon as Huerta turned traitor to his chief, as soon as the patriot and statesman Madero was murdered at El Globo, Henry Lane Wilson began to urge immediate recognition. Taft refused to become a party to the plot and declined to accept the bloody hand of Victoriano Huerta. And now it is for continuing the Taft policy of ignoring the assassin that President Wilson is assailed.

Another cry raised against the present administration, that of weakness in protecting the long border between the republics, is equally devoid of either reason or logic. On March 6, 1911, two years before Taft left the White House, he ordered 20,000 regulars to the border, and they have been there ever since. As for the murder of Americans in Mexico, two factors must be taken into consideration. The murders were not confined to the Wilson administration—Taft has his share, almost as large. Again, many of the Americans in Mexico are fugitive from justice who preferred to risk death across the Rio Grande to certain prison cells on this side.

And as Huerta died an American prisoner, with German money in his pocket, after being arrested just as he was about to spend it for another foreign-made revolution, it begins to appear that Henry Lane Wilson was not even sensible. Ordinarily a man guilty of his mistake would remain quiet.

TEDDY'S ARMY

Theodore Roosevelt is back where he started. Discredited in politics, as he was after his turbulent and unsuccessful career as police commissioner, he must resort to military achievement to gain new laurels with which to replace the withered and dried wreath which he picked up right mules from San Juan. Hence he is about to raise an army division of 12,000 men, with himself as head, to reduce Mexico and settle the trouble for all time.

Same old Teddy when it comes to egotism, conceit, swell-headedness, self-esteem and exaggerated ego. That he could fail never seems to enter his mind. That would be impossible, in his mind. Therefore, sure of the fact that his presence at the head of a troop would inspire the troopers to superhuman deeds, as well as striking terror into the foe, T. R. desires to end the trouble at once merely by leading his 12,000 across the Rio Grande.

The federal government ought to take him up on his proposition, making him major-general, as is suggested. The best way to treat a bluff is to call it. It would be interesting to have the entire nation watch the work of the Infalible Oracle of Oyster Bay. For a decade after San Juan he lived in the glow of a stolen spotlight, claiming credit for a charge which he did not witness and which a negro regiment made. Now that his "fake" military record is common property it might be well to send him across the border, just to see what he would do. A new river or two and a few whickered, nut-eating birds, with perhaps a disease or a drink hitherto unknown to all but the encyclopaedias, would serve to repay the nation for the pecuniary loss.

WILL BE MISSED

Today brings a new editor to The Wapakoneta News, the newsy and in many ways brilliant little daily in the Anglia county seat. After seven years on the job, "Bill" Hoffer is to move to Auburn, Indiana, to run a paper of his own. "Bill" will be missed in Northwestern Ohio. To put it mildly, he is a character. Quick on the trigger and always able to dish out the repartee, never lacking a quick comeback and not at all afraid to say just what he thinks, the Colonel kept pep and ginger in The News. Luke McLake has taken some of his best philosophy from "Bill". But it is as a stormy petrel of politics that Hoffer becomes most interesting. As easy as Allen O. Myers in his best days, but square about it and strong in his convictions, he has kept tab on the Fourth Ohio district as few men can. Bryan and single-tax compose half his creed. To be true, disagreement with him is occasionally necessary, but that doesn't alter the fact that the district, as well as Northwestern Ohio, is losing a remarkable journalist of a type not often found in a city the size of Wapakoneta. Good luck to him in Indiana.

Dr. Francis Marion Hunt, Piqua's candidate for congress, assures us that he will get a larger vote than the combined strength of four opponents. The doctor must have seen T. P. Riddle's motto for the Corn Boys—The Rainbow Comes Down in Ohio.

The old-fashioned voter who boasted of his unswerving fidelity to the ticket his grandfather voted now has a son who has friends in both parties and makes it a point to know something about the candidates on each ticket.

Speaking of candidates, you may have noticed that those who are the most effusive during a campaign are generally those with the least cordiality in normal times.

Carranza deserves credit for something, at least—the peace-at-any-price brand of insanity is getting less prevalent.

GOOD EVENING. The Fourth of July ought to mean more this year than in any since '08.

NEW NOTES FROM MOVIELAND

By DAISY DEAN

GRETCHEN HARTMAN, the piquant Adelaide Severn of "The Purple Lady," which is her first Metro picture, was born in Chicago, where she went to school. When she was 11 she went on the stage and played Mary Jane in "Mary Jane's Pa," the play by Edith Ellis in which Henry E. Dixey was starred.

From then until she grew up, which was not long ago, Gretchen was not long ago, Gretchen was bothered by the Gerry Society and other people, who thought that a child, even as clever as she, should not be on the stage. But she remained in the play three years. Her first grown-up part was in "The Master of the House," with Florence Reed.

She appeared in musical comedies, among them "The Flirting Princess" and "Sweethearts," with Christie MacDonald. Then she mysteriously lost her voice, and went into pictures, her first experience being with the Biograph. Going to California, she revelled in the outdoor life of the motion picture colony, riding anything from a blooded horse to a bucking bronco, swimming and playing tennis and golf.

She played the insane wife of Rochester in the film production of "Jane Eyre," and appeared in "The Mystery of Original," "Fit for the Burning," "On the Heights," and other pictures.

MARIN SAYS IN SUFFRAGE SERIES.

The coming Kalein series being made by Director James Horne has been titled "The Girl From Frisco." This, like the "Social Pirates," Horne's most recent release, is of the nature of a series, each episode being complete within itself. Marin 44-year-old Balboa star, who will play the featured part no doubt go through life as "Mary" throughout this series, which is of Sunshine, "is an attempt to prove that women can't have a new mamma. Baby Heloise to opportunities which confronts her own mother and father could them, and prove themselves as capable as men. The result is that the Balboa first episode entitled, "The Fight Company has contracted to buy a big Heiress," when a western fight company for the child and the court takes up the challenge made against a mother for her sex, and in the remaining episode and clever "Mary Sundes will attempt to prove that hershine."

TRAVELETTE BY NIMMAN.

BUFFALO. Mr. Rudyard Kipling remarked that east is east and west is west, and also hazarded the statement that the two will never meet. It is generally supposed that he was thinking of Asia when he penned the famous line, but he might well have been thinking of Buffalo, New York. Buffalo has an east and a west, and Europe will meet Asia before East Buffalo meets West Buffalo. The very trolley cars used to stop when they reached the dividing line of Main street, and the passengers walked across to take up their journey in a new car on the other side.

Main street is more than a mere division—it is a long and important highway, by following which you can get a comprehensive impression of Buffalo in half a day. A trip down Main street is something of an expedition, for the thoroughfare rambles on and on, through wholesale blocks and retail blocks in a wide, stately progress, until it ends in a somewhat less impressive district near the river. And as you walk along, the personality of Buffalo begins to take shape.

If Pittsburgh is a steel millionaire and New York a combination of Wall street magnate and theatrical producer, you feel at once that Buffalo cares for none of these things. Buffalo is a business man of the solid and conservative order, who has made a bigger fortune than you would suspect by looking at him in some eminently staid and methodical line of business, who lives comfortably on his income while he looks leisurely about for something to take up next. You see this character peeping forth most clearly out in the residential districts, where the old houses stand in aristocratic aloofness, each in its own wide grounds.

If you are fortunate enough to possess a friend with an automobile, an even better way to get acquainted with the personality of Buffalo than by walking up Main street is to circumnavigate it. There is a great belt of public parks encircling the city where you may run across anything from art museum to the statue of an Indian chief. You meet an occasional native of Buffalo pacing the walks with an air of pleased proprietorship. The people are not given to advertising their civic pride but it is there none the less.

Training in School Great Aid in Defense.

"A great essential has been neglected in the education of the tens of thousands of young men and women who are graduating from the high schools and colleges of the country. In the majority of instances they have had mental but not physical education," says Dr. S. G. Dixon, Pennsylvania commissioner of health.

"Some few have devoted themselves to a greater or less degree to competitive sports. This number is but a small fraction of those who pass through our schools. Our curriculum are often so planned that they make physical development difficult or impossible.

"To lay the foundation of health there should be proper physical training under the supervision of specially trained medical men beginning in the elementary school and going through the college course.

"A few years of training in youth and early manhood and womanhood would serve to instill habits of personal hygiene which would aid, inestimably to our future welfare, individually and as a nation.

"Today Sweden is leading the world in systematic education with a resulting high average of citizens individually prepared to take their part in the defense of their homes."

1. What is the best plan for the selection of teachers?

The following plan is recommended by Marion Lawrence: The teachers ought to be selected by a special committee composed of the pastor, the superintendent, the director of religious education (if the school has such an officer), and the superintendent of the department to which the teacher is to be assigned.

In case this plan does violence to the general plan of the church, then the church plan must be followed.

Lesson For July 2 in Questions.

(Mrs. D. Carl Yoder.)

"Paul at Thessalonica and Berea." Acts 17:1-18. Today's lesson follows closely our lesson for June 18, Acts 16:14-40.

1. Review the events of Paul's sojourn at Philippi; trace his journey from there along the Roman road to Thessalonica.

2. V. 1. What is the present name of Thessalonica, and what part has it played in the great war?

3. V. 6. Why is it every Christian's business to be an "upsetter of the world"? What alone can make right when the world is wrong side up?

4. Vs. 11-13. Account for the eminent reasonableness and tolerance of the Bereans. What use is made even today of the word "Berean"? What makes communities differ? One town progressive, another stagnant, one church successful, another ineffective? Is the problem of a parish the problem of a minister only?

Do we turn to the Bible eagerly? Do we search it diligently? Are we willing to do whatever it requires at any cost? Teachers will point out the dangers of ignorance of the Bible, the necessity of study, methods of Bible study, and the importance of Bible study our public schools.

5. Do not fail to turn squarely from Philippi, Thessalonica, Berea, Athens to confront the religious situation right at home.

6. What is evangelistic effort? Consider the gospel both individually and socially.

7. Should ministers today support themselves as Paul did? (I. Thes. 2:9-8. Is it ever right for Christians to go to law?

9. Is our measure of "getting on" hard cash, or faith and love? Fully consider.

Social Notes

MARION NAGEL

JUNE, the most romantic of the months, now gives place to July, the most patriotic, June seems synonymous with love and lovely brides, while July seems synonymous with the "red, white and blue," firecrackers and patriotic enthusiasm.

Weddings in the past month have been legion, and war brides were the specialty and distinction of many of Lima's young women. Garden parties, porch parties, bridge-teas, and summer dances have kept busy the pursuers of the fickle goddess Pleasure, during June. And now with the roll of drums and the bugle call July makes her appearance to take her place on milady's calendar. Monsieur and milady will start out with the light fantastic but who knows, monsieur may be marching with the ranks when July bows herself out, and milady may be rolling bandages with a red cross on her sleeve. But let us think with Emerson "That today is all that is good and fair" and let tomorrow take care of itself. For no one can have light feet and a heavy heart. And light heartedness will have to have its place, for with the Wayfarer's dance Monday evening, and the dance at the Elk's home, given by Miss Frances and Miss Hazel Wright Thursday, an innumerable other parties planned, July will keep close to the record set by its elder sister, June. At least, be patriotic, and greet Miss July with the cheer that warms her hear.

All women and girls who want to sew or take a course in cooking at the vocational school at either the high school or Whittier building, although only sewing is taught at the latter place, should at once notify the head of the committee. Instruction will begin the day after the 4th at 8:30 a. m. and again at 7:30 p. m. Quite a number have signed up, but not enough names are in to make it possible to keep both schools going with two teachers each for six weeks. It is therefore suggested that each person who has signed up to secure at least one more pupil and help make the schools a great success. $1.00 is the price for each course and $1.50 for both. School will be held on Monday, Wednesday and Friday. Mrs. Lush M. Butler of West Spring street is the chairman of the home economics committee.

Friday a new business manager will come to the Business Woman's club to assume her duties. Mrs. Maude T. Kimball of Boston. Mrs. Kimball is a woman of unusual culture and refinement and the club is fortunate, indeed, in obtaining her services. Charming, may be used with absolute right in describing Mrs. Kimball. She has been interested in home economics for quite some time, and has devoted a large amount of her time to its study, both in the United States and abroad. Two years ago she filled the position as household manager of the hospital at Framingham, Mass., during which time she took a course in household efficiency. She is also an artist of no mean ability, and has done some very fine platinum photography work. Her interest in the Business Woman's club developed while she was the guest of Mrs. Lush Butler several weeks last winter, and she feels that there is a big future before the club.

Miss Francis Easley, who has been a student of Home Economics in Indianapolis the past year, will return the first of the week to spend the summer vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Easley, of West Wayne street.

Mrs. J. C. Burwell and sons, who have been the guests of relatives in Delphos, returned to Lima yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Travers, of Brice avenue, have as their guest, their grand daughter, Miss Alice Johnston, of Dinard, Minnesota. While here she will study with Miss Gail Watson.

Donald McHaffey, son of Mr. and Mrs. George McHaffey, of West Market street, arrived yesterday from New York, to spend a few days with his parents. Mr. McHaffey is at present employed with the Lumax Manufacturing Co.

Mrs. Hugh Phelps and daughter Virginia, left Wednesday afternoon for their home in Tacoma, Wash.

Miss Lillian Beall, of Richie avenue, left Friday morning for Chicago. She will be gone about two months, and will visit her father's brother, Louis H. Beall, and wife. John Beall accompanied his daughter, and will stay in Chicago the rest of the week.

Mrs. Bertha Colvin, of South Cole street, who attended the Bi-annual of the Woman's Federation of Clubs at New York, returned to her home Wednesday. Mrs. Colvin, after the convention, went to Wilmington, Delaware, where she joined Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Broadwater and Mr. and Mrs. Hunter Grubb in a motor trip along the Atlantic coast. Mrs. Colvin was the honor guest of many lovely parties given by a host of friends.

Among the teachers who have left for summer study at the University of Columbia, are Miss Jennie Dager, Miss Sadie Mueson, Miss Mary Conrath, Miss Nellie Smith and Miss Anna Conrath.

Mr. and Mrs. N. L. Michael, of West Market street, have as their house guest their daughter, Mrs. Charles M. Loefer, of Chicago.

MARRYING A BUTTERFLY

By MRS. EVA LEONARD Y

In Which a Genuine Helpmate Offers Some Suggestions to Ethel.

"I WAS SO disgusted with my maid. It was her afternoon off, and she would not stay to help out, although she knew it would be hard for me to manage with the lunch alone," grumbled Ethel as she rose to leave and prepare lunch.

"Let me help you dear," volunteered Margie Forsyth. "I always get Sunday evening lunch. My girl gets every Sunday afternoon off. I really prefer to have the house to myself and I leave the dishes for her to do in the morning."

Margie had followed Ethel into the kitchen.

"Give her every Sunday off!" echoed Ethel in surprise. "Why do you do it? It makes it hard for you."

"I do not mind it a bit. I do most of the cooking anyway."

"Why?"

"For many reasons," laughed Margie. "I enjoy cooking, it is such fascinating work, and I can do so much better than any maid I can afford to hire. Cooks cost about twice as much as ordinary maids, you know. Then they are so wasteful. I save an enormous amount by keeping tab on all the eatables that come into the house."

Margie was busily arranging the lettuce around the salad dish while Ethel looked helplessly on.

PERSONALITIES I HAVE MET

ARTHUR JOHNSON.

Copyright 1914, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

EVER SINCE I have been a little girl I have heard my mother talk about Sol Smith Russell, and when I met Arthur Johnson, with his slow, sweet, sunrise smile, I always imagined they were very much alike.

Although I have written on the passing of Arthur Johnson, in turning over the scrapbook of Time one of the red-letter pages in my knowing and playing with Arthur Johnson in the old Biograph days.

If I can end by telling how much I liked him, I can certainly begin by confessing how much I disliked him when I first went to the studio, for he was a great tease, and as I was at the bashful, oversensitive age, of course he made me the target of his winged shafts of humor.

There were many days when I fled to my dressing room to give vent to the tears which would flow in spite of myself, but if he had known it there was no one in the studio who would have grieved more because he had hurt any one's feelings than Arthur Johnson.

The first time I met him was in Chicago, when I was playing there with Mr. Belasco's traveling company in "The Warrens of Virginia." He was at that time with Jim Corbett in "The Gentleman Burglar."

Several from our company took a box at the theatre where he was playing, and we all remarked that he was our idea of the ideal Irish gentleman, for Arthur Johnson was born in Ireland and always had a bit of brogue, which made him the more fascinating to all of us. He was very well educated and all of his brothers had studied for the ministry. "But not I," laughed Arthur Johnson. "I was destined to be the black sheep of the family."

Among the pictures I played in with him perhaps the ones I liked best were "Love Among the Roses" and "The Little Schoolteacher." He never seemed to be acting, but would say many amusing little lines which made us quite imagine we were living the part.

Mr. Griffin always enjoyed directing him, and what a company it was—Mack Sennett, Marion Leonard, and Florence Lawrence!

We were all envious of Arthur Johnson because his mail box burst

Never have I heard any one speak so tenderly of their daughter as he did in telling about his little girl. They were wonderful stories and I assure you. Because of his great love for his home, he was never really happy, either on the stage or in pictures, and always longed for the time to come when he could have a quiet home in the country and a great, wonderful yard for his children.

Often we actors and actresses gather together and talk over the romance and charm of those yesterdays at the Biograph, and always does the name of Arthur Johnson linger the longest in our hearts.

Warner's Rust-Proof Corsets

Isn't She Attractive?

It isn't every corset that you can sit down comfortably in, but you can in a Warner's.

To be sure it is not every boned because fashion does not require it, but the latest models are boned pliantly—the boning taking naturally every movement of the figure, accenting slightly the curves.

There is one thing about a Warner's Corset that we want to point out to you very particularly—and that is that a Warner's always holds its shape from the day you put it on until it is worn out—but who wants to wear a corset until it is worn out?—no one. We like fresh undergarments, and we can easily afford a Warner's since they are so moderately priced.

FIRST JURY OF WOMEN TO CONVICT OF FELONY

This is believed to be the first jury composed wholly of women to bring in a verdict of guilty in a felony case. These women of San Diego heard the testimony in the case of four Mexicans charged with highway robbery and found them guilty. Women have served on many juries in California, but this is one of the few composed wholly of women.

ters like yours give me so much pleasure.

S. C.—Thank you very, very much for the Precious Promise Testament. It was very thoughtful of you and indeed I will read it in some times.

W. L. D.—If I were you, I would go to the moving picture studios, leave my address, photo and description, and as soon as they are in need of your type they will send for you. That will give you a trial and after that, it is up to you to make good.

Miss H.—New applicants who are given a chance as "extras" receive wages, which vary with type, etc. It depends upon a girl's own ability how long she does extra work. She has to furnish her own clothes. There is a studio in Cleveland, newly opened. I would go to the studio in person, leave address, photo and description. This is much better than writing.

A number of Lima people attended the wedding Friday of Miss Beuse Lusk and Gustave Bowscher of Wapakoneta, at Wapakoneta. The ceremony, at which the Rev. G. A. Ehrhard officiated, was performed at the new home of the young couple. The bride, who was unattended, was dressed in a beautiful Copenhagen blue suit, wore a black hat and carried an armful of Killarney roses. Immediately after the ceremony, a wedding supper was served in the dining room, which was beautifully decorated with roses and lilies, carrying out with a lovely effect a pink and white color scheme. In the center of the bride's table was a large wedding cake which was a masterpiece of the confectioner's art. Tall cathedral candles from a bank of massed lilies and roses completed the table. Mr. and Mrs. Bowscher will make their home in Wapakoneta after their return from their bridal trip, which they are taking on the St. Lawrence river. Among the Lima guests were: Mrs. Walter Lusk, Mr. and Mrs. John Vogelgesang, Miss Ruth Johns, Clarence John, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Hiner, Miss Luella Rusk, Miss Mildred Vogelgesang and Lee Rusk.

More than 200 local club women attended the garden party of the Federated clubs, held yesterday at the home of Mrs. Oliver B. Selfridge of West Market street. The grounds are particularly suited to an occasion of this sort, and the affair was a great success. The most interesting feature of the party was the report given by delegates to the Biennial recently held at New York. These were given by Mrs. B. A. Gramm, Mrs. Selfridge, Mrs. Keat Hughes, Mrs. George Vicary, Mrs. E. C. Powell, Mrs. George Duffy and Mrs. C. W. Holster.

Original views held by the different women were as amusing as they were interesting.

It was reported that the Girls' Welfare association of the High school, which has been doing such excellent philanthropic work, had been taken into the federation. Also, that the membership-at-large committee had 30 new members to add to the list since the last monthly report.

Tea was served on the porch of the home, at which the Misses Elizabeth Brice, Mary Stolzenbach, Elizabeth Bearnese, Hazel Rowe and Kathryn Wyre assisted.

Out of town members who attended were: Mrs. Jean Vale and daughter Helene, Ottawa; Mrs. J. M. Welsh, Spencerville; Mrs. N. W. Cunningham, Bluffton, and her house guest, Mrs. Baldwin, Boston.

THE LAKE TOMAHAWK

VOL. 1. INDIAN LA No. 5
WILLIARD CLEVENGER, Editor.
WEATHER—Hot. WATER—Great.

Today brought us the hottest day of the season and some of the fellows got more sun than they really need. "Doc" Rooney was busy with bandages for blisters that have burst and he again warns the crowd to cover up when in the rays of Old Sol.

Last evening "Giny" and Young forgot that the swimming periods are limited to those at the beach, so they went from a boat off the camp shore. "Doc" prescribed 15 minutes in the Bull Ring for each. Young is making a record in the "Ring."

Sid got out of camp last evening and was much fussed. He began to toot the rising call on his bugle at midnight. "The great to be conscientious in your work, but it's hard on the other fellows who have to bear the brunt of your mistakes, Sid."

Tent inspection was again today. We had five judges and every tent had a vote. Tent 2 came through a winner again, and it looks as though they were going to make the camp record.

That swimming meet that has been advertised for almost a week came off this afternoon. The prizes were awarded to winners of first places only and the result is that Harruff and Robinson are in danger of having to visit the "Doc" for a little pill. Chocolate cream bars were the prizes. Robinson won the 100 yard swim, the swimming on the back, and the underwater swim. Harruff won in the plunge for distance and 50 yards dash. The other place winners were J. Douglas Wemmer and Young. Hoagland was in but as usual only made a splash.

Our campfire was enlivened by the presence of Bobby Tar, the eight-year-old son of the proprietor of our campsite. Bobby is a great worshipping of Daniel Boone and told us of some of old scout Dan's adventures on the Ohio river. We were glad to hear you, Bobby, come over again.

At the beach, today, we saw the biggest and roundest female of the season. The lake seemed to go up a foot when she went in.

Tonight is the last in camp for some of the fellows. Lynch, Butters and Wemmer return to town tomorrow after their week with us here. We have surely been glad "Chuck," "Skinny" and "Bill" were able to be here this season. We will look for you again next year.

Why, oh why, was Cleveland sick this morning. Listen, my children and you shall hear. The Webbs came to camp last evening and left Russell some cake. Mid got a shade at midnight and he was trying to convince the "doc" that the reason for the paleness this morning was because he forgot to brush his teeth. Don't be afraid to divide, Mid, the "doc" will help you eat anytime.

Someone says the big girl of No. 2, Campfire girls, wants Mr. Rooney to teach her to swim. We hope Mrs. Rooney reads "The Tomahawk" for we know she may be chasing her boy round the room when he goes home. We notice she, (the H. P.) only goes when the "doc" is in his swimming suit.

Emblems are to be awarded to the deserving fellows tonight at campfire. Someone will be sad 'err they turn to rest. Mothers and fathers, watch for your son's name in our next. He may be good for something or nothing.

GOEBEL ON FORCE AGAIN.

John B. Goebel, former member of the Lima police force has been re-instated as a member of the department and will take up his duties tonight as a night patrolman. He resigned last February after several years' service.

That he remained away from home until 4 or 5 o'clock in the morning, went to bed and slept late, then got up and ordered a special breakfast prepared, was one of the complaints set forth in the answer and cross-petition of Mrs. Anna T. Japan's Mailed Fist Intimidates Chinese Professing Friendship For U. S., Nippon Seizes Con- trol of Asiatic Trade.

VI—THE MAILED FIST.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 1.—Japan has never lacked for defenders in the United States. Her Asiatic policy has been upheld even when its methods were irregular, on the ground that her friendship for America and China as well as her high political ideals would make the end justify the means. Now Japan has shown her hand. If any American does not see what Japan's course in China means to the United States, it is probably because he never dreamed the question worth investigating.

Japan made 21 demands on China. Some of these demands were the most sweeping and audacious ever made by one modern power on another. Japan modestly requested that China should employ Japanese political, financial and military advisers, that the police departments of important places in China should be put under the joint administration of Chinese and Japanese, that China should purchase from Japan a fixed amount of munitions of war (one-half, or more, of all that China needed, suggested Japan) or else establish a jointly worked arsenal under the direction of Japanese technical experts and using Japanese material.

Besides these demands, which obviously trampled roughshod over all China's sovereign rights as a nation, and over the interests of all the other powers including the United States, Japan advanced many more. She demanded that the great Chinese iron mining company, the Hanyang should be made a joint Sino-Japanese concern and stuck in a clause to the effect that no mines in the neighborhood of those belonging to the company should be worked by anybody else, thereby guarding herself against the superior efficiency of American and English mining companies.

She ordered China to extend her lease on Port Arthur and Dalmay for 99 years, and her lease on Manchurian railways for the same period. Thereby China was deprived of any chance of getting back what belongs to her for another century, and the principle of equal opportunity for foreigners in the rich Manchurian territory—where American trade formerly predominated—goes glimmering for the same length of time. Japan also asked for the privilege of building railways in Shantung, told China that she must get Japan's consent before borrowing money or granting railway concessions in Manchuria and eastern Mongolia (Mongolia is over a third the size of the United States) and pledged China not to sell or lease any of her coast line to any third power. There were several other demands, but these were the principal ones, and show with some clearness how Japan went about securing what she referred to in her preamble, as "the general peace of eastern Asia and a further strengthening of the friendly relations and good neighborhood existing between the two nations."

Having made the demands, Japan strictly forbade China to talk about them. They were to be kept absolutely secret, or Japan would be seriously annoyed and take steps accordingly. At the same time Japan assured the rest of the world that the demands did not infringe on anybody's rights, and gave out a highly modified statement of them herself. So well did she do her publicity work that when an English correspondent in Peking got hold of the real demands and cabled them to his paper, that journal expended considerable money on a cable telling him to cease his false and misleading reports and get down to facts.

However, in subtle diplomacy, China was fully the equal of Japan, and before many weeks she saw to it that the demands became generally known. In the face of questioning from the chancelleries of Europe, in the face of a note from the United States flatly refusing to recognize the result of the negotiations, Japan blithely stuck to her course. She would have preferred to put it through without unnecessary trouble but it trouble came, she was ready for it. The conference between the Japanese ministers and the Peking government continued. Japan consented to modifications in a few of her demands, postponed a few others for future reference, graciously consented that China, instead of signing her rights away by treaty, might in certain cases do exactly the same thing by an exchange of notes.

All this time, a double garrison of Japanese troops had been stationed in the north. Japan explained that the fresh troops had come to relieve those whose terms of field duty had expired, but for some reason the relieved troops stayed on the job alongside the newcomers. When China asked when the garrisons would be reduced to their normal strength, she was bluntly informed that this would be done as soon as China had yielded to Japan's wishes in the negotiations.

China replied to Japan's revised demands, yielding all that she well could, and a little more. China's position was particularly unpleasant, because even if she herself were willing to be swallowed by her small and pugnacious neighbor—which she emphatically was not—

she knew that the other powers would object vigorously as soon as they had a hand free to object with. In other words, the unpleasant process of submitting to Japan would be followed by the still more unpleasant process of being called to account by Europe for having submitted. So China refused to yield those points in the Japanese demands which would have infringed too flagrantly on the rights of other nations. Japan sent an ultimatum.

On receipt of the ultimatum, China gave in. She had no other possible course. Her government was newly set up and precariously balanced, her military and naval power negligible, in spite of the fact that the number of men fit for military service in China is greater than the entire population of Japan. The 21 demands came at a peculiarly inopportune time for the Chinese government. They did irreparable damage to its prestige among the people, just as it was beginning to get on its feet and well started toward restoring peace and order in the empire. Japan's demands set back China's progress towards strength and unity by years, perhaps by decades. It is quite possible that this was one of the objects Japan had in mind. It is not inconceivable that a strong and progressive empire many times her own size and wealth for a next-door neighbor is no part of Japan's program.

Whatever the Machiavellian motives and diplomatic complexities interwoven in the situation, the fact remains that Japan forced her demands down China's throat at the point of an ultimatum. The most violent anti-Japanese partisan must pay the tribute of a certain admiration to Japan's daring policy if not to her principles. She consummated the boldest and most unscrupulous coup d'etat of modern times. In the face of the interests and desires of the whole civilized world, a little island empire but 50 years emerged from mediaevalism, staggering under the burden of a colossal national debt, with credit rapidly diminishing with the burden of militarism breaking the backs of her people, recklessly invaded the vested rights of the world's greatest powers, strode roughshod over the sovereignty of a huge helpless empire, met protests by denial or calmly ignored them—and carried her program through. Now Japan's attitude is one of "What are you going to do about it?"

In this connection it is interesting to note the observations of a British military expert, correspondent of the London "Times" and probably the best informed man in the far east. After an analysis of Japan's military and naval power, he comes to the conclusion that only the military regeneration of the United States or China can deprive Japan of predominance in the further Orient. "And to talk to a Japanese of such possibilities," he says, "only provokes a smile."

In other words, Japan does not worry about what the United States may think of her Asiatic policy. This in spite of the fact that, after China, the United States is the nation most concerned. The principles which Japan violated were subscribed to by all the powers, but they were originally put forward and sponsored by the United States.

The other powers may yet follow Japan's example and disregard those principles, they may go back to the old sphere of influence doctrine and take their profits at China's expense. There is no likelihood that Japan will stand in England's way, or Russia's way. England and Japan are allies, a Russo-Japanese alliance is expected to be made public at any minute. The interests of the United States will be the ones to suffer, by far the most seriously. Our policy will be overridden, our principles mocked, and our commercial and industrial rights cast carelessly aside.

In spite of all this, Japan only waited until the hands of Europe were tied before aggressing on China. She waited until only the United States was free to protest the doctrine of equal rights. Then she went ahead.

The end of the chapter has still to be written. This is no matter of history; it is still moldering, living, unsettled. Europe is still at war, with her word in the Orient still to be said. The peace treaties have yet to be drafted. Meanwhile, Japan has gained the advantage of position in the Chinese chess game. Meanwhile, our notes of protest still lie in some pigeon-hole in Peking and in Tokyo. China herself is still dealing with revolt and anarchy, which may at any moment furnish pretext for fresh aggressions. The situation is fraught with a hundred possibilities. Americans should remember—that for our nation the most vital issue in the world struggle is not the fate of Belgium, or of Serbia, or Poland. It is the fate of China.

ANCIENT ICELAND.

Iceland was founded A. D. 874, by men from Norway. It was said a wholesale colonization of picked men as had not been seen since ancient Greek times, and was not to be seen again until Winthrop sailed into Massachusetts Bay. It was not long before the population of Iceland was 50,000. Their sheep and cattle flourished, hay crops were heavy, a lively trade—with fish, oil, butter and skins, in exchange with meal and malt—was kept up with Norway, Denmark and the British Isles. Political freedom was unimpaired, justice was fairly well administered, naval superiority kept all foes at a distance and under such conditions the growth of the new community in wealth and culture was surprisingly rapid—John Fiske.

LENT IN PEPPY'S DIARY.

The question of fish diet in Lent does not usually depend upon economic considerations nowadays. In Peppy's time it still did, and in varying ways, according to circumstances. One of the dairy entries runs: "We had this morning a great dispute between Mr. Gauden, victualler of the navy, and Mr. J. Lawson, an dthe rest of the commanders going against Algiers, about their fish and keeping of Lent, which Mr. Gauden so much insists upon to have it observed, as being the only thing that makes up the loss of his dear bargain all the rest of the year." On the other hand, in 1661, "the talk of the town now is, who the king is like to have for his queen, and whether Lent shall be kept with the strictness of the king's proclamation, which is thought cannot be because of the poor, who cannot buy fish."—Exchange.

Three "C's" of Caring For Milk In the Home

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 28.—The three "C's" for the proper care of milk in the home, according to the dairy specialists of the U. S. department of agriculture, are:

Keep milk Clean, Cold, Covered. Milk is a highly perishable food and the length of time it will remain sweet and safe, especially for children, depends, the specialists say, almost entirely upon the constant care it receives from cow to consumer. Milk passes through three agencies—the producer, the dealer, and the consumer. If the first two have done their part, clean, safe milk will be delivered, thoroughly chilled, to the consumer. The consumer's responsibility begins the moment the milk is delivered at his doorstep.

Because milk poured from vessel to vessel on the street is very liable to contamination from dust, manure particles and germs, milk is best delivered in capped bottles. If bottled milk can not be obtained, the housewife should try to have someone in the family receive the milk in a clean, scalded utensil, cover it instantly, and put it without delay into the refrigerator, or the coldest available place. Under no circumstances should an uncovered pitcher, bowl or pan be left out on the porch to receive bulk milk. The vessel, both before and after the milk is poured into it, is accessible to flies and collects particles of dust and dirt.

Even in the case of bottled milk, however, the consumer must see that the bottle is not left out in the heat for a moment longer than is necessary. Milk should be delivered and kept at a temperature of 50 degrees F. or lower—the colder the better. At such temperatures bacteria develop very slowly and milk undergoes little change until consumed. A slight rise in temperature above this point, however, permits bacteria to multiply rapidly and brings about rapid deterioration of the milk, which may render it unfit for ordinary use and make it highly dangerous for babies and little children. For this reason bottled or other milk should not be allowed to remain in a warm place, as on a sunny porch or in a hot kitchen, for a moment longer than is necessary.

Delivery of Milk in Hot Weather. In hot weather the best plan is to have the milkman put the milk directly into the refrigerator, because at that time of year milk can not be kept properly without ice. If a refrigerator is not available, provide a small box containing ice, and if ice is unobtainable, provide some tight container with insulated walls that keep the heat from getting rapidly to the cold milk. A homemade fireless cooker is admirable for this purpose, especially if partially filled with ice. In the absence of any of these devices, arrange with the milkman not to leave the milk in the sunlight, but to put it in the coolest, shadiest place around the house.

Handling Milk in Home. In handling milk around the home, do not pour it from one vessel to another until it is to be consumed. Do not let the bottle of milk remain out of the refrigerator a moment longer than is necessary. Keep the milk covered, using paper caps or an inverted tumbler on bottles, or storing it in covered utensils. Any household utensil that is to be used as a vessel for keeping milk, should first be cleaned thoroughly and scalded.

Before opening a bottle of milk, wash and wipe the neck and outside of the cap with water and a clean cloth. The little depression on the top of the cap may collect dust or water and any milk that leaks out may attract flies. Lift out the cap with a pointed instrument, so that the outside of the cap, which may be contaminated, will not be pushed down into the milk. Each time the milk is to be poured from the bottle it is a wise precaution to wash the neck as described.

Milk is a Refrigerator.

The refrigerator where milk is stored should be cleaned regularly, especial care being given to keeping the drip pipe free and clean. The ice rack also should be cleaned and any places where food is kept or milk stored should be scalded occasionally with sal-soda solution. The refrigerator, even though cold, may quickly be contaminated by a few drops of spilled milk, or by small particles of food. No matter how clean the refrigerator, milk should never be kept in an open vessel. As milk absorbs odors easily, such food as fish, cabbage, or onions should not be kept in proximity to it.

Clean Empty Bottles.

As soon as a milk bottle is emptied, rinse it thoroughly with cold water. Do not return dirty bottles and do not use milk bottles except to hold milk. Returning dirty bottles to the milkman may mean that a few days later either you or your neighbors will get contaminated milk. Milk bottles should never be taken into a sick room. In case of infectious or contagious disease, all bottles should be boiled thoroughly and should not be returned to the dealer without the express permission of the attending physician. Such diseases easily can be made epidemic through disregard of this precaution.

Where There Are Children.

Care of milk, important for all, is a vital necessity in a home where there are children. It is absolutely essential to the safety of babies. No intelligent mother will leave to an ordinary servant the task of caring for or preparing the milk for her baby. Mothers of small children should get, from their own physicians, explicit directions for the proper handling of milk and for cleaning and sterilizing nursing bottles. Pamphlets on infant feeding may be obtained from the municipal milk stations or health officers. Milk for babies can not be kept too cold, and too much care can not be given to keeping it clean and covered.

Further information on this subject may be had by writing to the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., for Farmers Bulletin 412, "Care of Milk and Its Use in the Home."

SHOOT DOWN 18 OF TEUTON PLANES IN DARING FLIGHTS

French Air Terror Over-comes Foes by His Skill As Pilot.

Chases German Flyer to Earth, Then Buys Him Drink.

PARIS, June 27.—Second Lieutenant Jean Navarre of the French flying corps, has just been officially credited with destroying his tenth German machine.

Unofficially, he has brought down 18; that is to say, that in addition to the ten machines, destruction of which has been verified by his superior officers, he is known to have sent eight more to earth behind the German lines under circumstances that justify the supposition that they were destroyed.

Navarre is the "enfant terrible," a pest, of the French flying corps, with eccentricities that keep his superior officers busy. He had seen most of the world at 18, and had been sent to the front in 1914, and had taken a few lessons in aviation when he was broken out. Too young to be allowed to the colors regularly, he enlisted and was summoned to appear for medical examination; instead of expounding, he took the train for Saint Cyr, and told the officers there he had been ordered to report to him the engineers.

Together with a comrade that had received a pilot's license, he applied to an officer of the flying corps at Tours to be incorporated in that service. The captain examined the papers of the real aviator and passed him; then asked Navarre: "What do you want?" "Same as he," replied Navarre, and without further formality Navarre found himself on an 8-horse power biplane at the front, regulating the fire of the artillery in November, 1914.

It was a service that was little suited to his disposition; he called it "driving a taxi-auto," and showed his discontent by some fantastic evolutions on returning from an observation tour, that resulted in his being sent to the rear. He presented himself at the aviation camp where men were being trained to fly the swift battle planes and was given opportunity to try one of them. His natural qualities as an acrobat of the air got him immediately one of these new machines.

He made his debut in the chase in March, 1915, and in his first expedition attacked one of the German machines that was the most formidable at that time, by his skill as a pilot alone dominating his adversary. He flew over him, looped the loop under him, sailed all around him, raking a dozen times to collide with him, yet never giving the German observer a chance to fire.

The German machine finally went to earth a few yards from the French lines without having been hit or damaged in any way; the German pilot had lost his head in the presence of the fantastic evolutions of his adversary and could only inquire after being made prisoner: "What in the world is that phenomenon that fell upon me?"

Since that time Navarre has flown successfully in all the different machines in the French aviation service, mastering them all with equal ease and skill and never failing to charge an enemy wherever he found him. His theory of the aerial combat is to go at his man, drive right at him regardless of the enemy's fire paying attention only to his own. Up to date, Navarre has waged nearly 50 air battles.

A great many anecdotes are told of Navarre, some of them perhaps somewhat stretched, a few of them authentic. One of the latter relates to his fourth combat, which barely escaped getting him 30 days in prison. He had then already acquired the habit, which he still follows, of getting out before daylight and finishing his sleep in his machine, so as to be ready to take the air instantly when an adversary's machine is signaled. On this occasion his aid ran up crying: "There is a German coming up there."

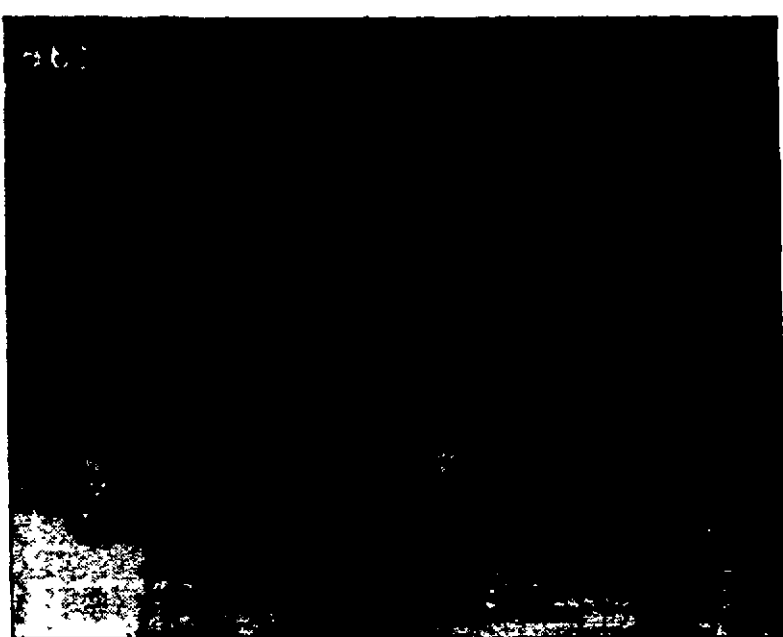

Navarre darted into the air above the River Marne, and made straight for a big German two-seated biplane. He fired a dozen bullets at the pilot who in trying to shield himself, steered his machine abruptly to one side. Then Navarre placed nine bullets in the motor and the machine plunged toward the earth but landed without accident. Navarre landed after it, and, running up just as gendarmes were taking the pilot and the observer away, invited them into a winery beside the gendarmes' headquarters to have a drink.

The prisoners, sent to the rear, related the incident and the general commanding the army ordered Navarre under close arrest for 30 days. The eccentric aviator's amusing explanation, however, got the better of the general's anger and the sentence was suspended.

THE FAUROT'S PICTURES.

Hot weather finds no diminution in the size of the audiences at the Faurot. In fact, there is a marked increase in the attendance, probably due to the fact that the theatre is about the coolest place in town these hot days, though the diverting additions to the programs may have a bearing.

For today the Faurot has an attraction that should command the attention of every picturegoer in Lima. It is a film production of a play that is endeared to the hearts of millions of Americans—Denman Thompson's dramatic classic, "The Old Homestead." The play has been acted in this country for over twenty years and has never lost an atom of its popularity. Its sterling dramatic value, the wholesome story, the quaint New England types all contribute to make it a rare treat. None of these attributes have been lost in the faithful and most artistic picture-ization of the play by the Famous Players company. The cast, which is headed by Frank Losee as "Joshua Whitcomb" and Louise Huff as "Ruth," was sent to New Hampshire to secure the correct atmosphere and a number of local characters were used in the making of the film. The scenes were taken in and about the home built by Denman Thompson at Nashua, amid the men, women and localities that he made immortal in his celebrated play. "The Old Homestead" is a play that cannot help but make one better for having seen it. To this admirable feature is added new Paramount Pictographs, the timely and interesting subjects of which never fail to please, and a new comedy feature, "The Lightning Bell Hop." This is one of the famous "Musty Suffer" series of comedies that have so caught the fancy of film fans. The leading role is acted by Harry Watson, Jr., of the famous team of Bickel and Watson. He has brought a new idea in fun to the screen—good, lively, spontaneous fun, but without the vulgarly or suggestiveness that occasionally mar this kind of motion pictures. This program is for today only.

On Sunday and Monday, at the insistence of request of hundreds of its patrons the Faurot will bring back "Poor Little Peppina," which Lima people, in company with millions of picturegoers all over America, regard as the greatest success of film-dom's greatest star, Mary Pickford. It played to enormous business, when first shown at the Faurot and its return will doubtless attract all who saw it on that occasion as well as those who have heard of the splendid merits of the production. Little Mary has a perfect Pickford part in this play, which was written especially for her by Kate Jordan. The little Italian runaway girl who through force of circumstances becomes a bootblack, a telegraph messenger and the scape goat of a band of counterfeiters is deliciously acted by the supreme screen star. The Famous Players gave the play a production that has not been yet excelled in matter of perfect detail and settings. "Poor Little Peppina" should not be missed on this occasion, for it is probably the last time it will be seen in Lima. It is accompanied on the Faurot's program by a new Bray-Paramount cartoon comedy, "Bobby Bumps Goes Fishing" and the latest Pathe News, with its review of the stirring events of the day.

On Tuesday and Wednesday the Faurot will have the new Morisco production for the Paramount program, "The Making of Maddalena," with Edna Goodrich in the title role. It is a story of an Italian artist's model and a wealthy young American, with scenes laid in New York and Rome. Miss Goodrich's classic beauty and dramatic talent make her an ideal selection for the part, and Mr. Morisco has surrounded her with a cast in which names distinguished for fine work on the screen are abundant. Forrest Stanley, Howard Davies, Juan de la Cruz, John Burton, Mary Mersch, Violet White and Laura LaVarré have the important roles. For perfection of settings and photography the picture is said to be fully up to the artistic plane always observable in Morisco productions. "The Making of Maddalena" will be accompanied by the last of Burton Holmes' Philippine series, "The Penal Colony of Palawan," and a new edition of the Pathe News.

Francis X. Bushman and Beverly Bayne, recognized as the foremost stellar combination in the silent drama, will be seen on the screen at the Faurot next Thursday and Friday in "A Million a Minute," a distinctive Metro wonderplay in five parts. The play is brimful of interest and presents a story of intrigue, romance, adventure and mystery, together with a strong vein of comedy, which makes for most satisfactory entertainment. The stars are supported by a cast which includes such Metro favorites as Robert Cummings, Helen Dunbar, John Davidson, Charles Prince, Carl Bricker, Mary Moore and others. There are many interesting scenes taken in and around New York, on shipboard, and the cafe life of Paris is faithfully reproduced. Metro has made an artistic and finished production of "A Million a Minute." On the same program will be a new comedy, "The Schemers," with Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Drew in the leading roles, and bits of picturesque scenic subjects in Pathecolor.

For next Saturday the Faurot has secured a return booking of "Carmen," the superb Laszky production with Geraldine Farrar in her greatest role, both on the screen and in grand opera. It is needless to dwell upon the merits of this wonderful picture or the acting of this wonderful woman. "Carmen" created a sensation when first shown here and its return will be warmly welcomed. Miss Farrar will have the support of Wallace Reid and Pedro de Cordoba in the principal male parts and the rest of the cast is made up of the flower of the Laszky studio. This program also contains new Paramount Pictographs and another "Musty Suffer" comedy, "Bells and Belles," with Harry Watson, Jr.

STAR THEATRE.

The cosy and comfortable Star theatre is reaping the reward of its splendid programs of variety and quality by playing to big audiences at every performance. Today's offerings include "The Money Lenders," a two-reel 101 Bison drama with Marie Walcamp and Lee Hill in the leading roles; "Baseball Bill," a Laemmle comedy introducing Billy Mason; the Animated Weekly, with its pictorial review of current events, and the second of the inimitable Goldberg cartoon comedies. This one is entitled "Leap Year," a subject that gives the famous cartoonist great latitude for the display of his rare humor.

On Sunday the Star will have "The Sting of Conscience," a three-part Rex drama with charming and talented Doris Pawn in the leading role, the last day of "Leap Year," the Goldberg cartoon and added comedy features of clever variety.

TICKETS GO RAPIDLY FOR CHAUTAUQUA

Churches Aid Committees in Pushing Sales; Time is Short.

A concerted effort is being made by the committee in charge to see that every bit of available space to be had at the coming Chautauqua, opening Thursday, July 13, and lasting for a week, is disposed of and to that end tickets are going rapidly. Churches of the city have decided to dispose of a vast number.

The First Baptist church has taken 200 tickets to dispose of. Every church in the city has been visited by the committee, which includes Miss Katherine Reilly, Miss Francis Mair and Mrs. W. H. Leete, representing the City hospital and instructive Visiting Nurse association, which philanthropic institutions will benefit from the Chautauqua. Mrs. F. M. Bell, publicity manager, is assisting and directing the efforts of the committee.

Both St. Rose Catholic church and St. John's parish will aid the project. The committee has visited the Rev. Father A. E. Manning and the Rev. Father John Mizer, in charge of these parishes, respectively. The cause is one to help Lima become greater.

Every one of the guarantors of the Chautauqua took their allotment of tickets and in many cases these have already been disposed of. No season tickets will be sold after the Chautauqua opens. This is why people are buying now, before the supply is exhausted. To purchase individual tickets, causes the price to run up well, while all these good things may be enjoyed for the low price of a season ticket.

The entertainments are first class and will bring to the city men and women prominent on the lecture platform today.

HER LEFT SIDE HURT.
Mrs. Laura Beall, Plattaburg, Miss., writes: "Last April I got in bad with my left side hurt all the time. I had symptoms of Bright's disease. I took Foley Kidney Pills and feel all right now." They quickly relieve backache, rheumatism, aches and pains. Bladder troubles, too, are corrected by this remedy. H. F. Vorkamp.

PATRIOTIC SOCIETIES TO ATTEND FIRST BAPTIST

Special patriotic services, commemorating the declaration of independence, will be held on Sunday morning at the First Baptist church. The Rev. Franklin A. Stiles, pastor, will speak on "The American Spirit." At that time members of Mart Armstrong post, Grand Army of the Republic, their auxiliary, the Woman's Relief corps, Daughters and Sons of Veterans will attend in a body.

Rail Lights vs. Lima Team Will Draw Good Crowd

Through the courtesy of Manager Bernard Holleran of the Lima Independent Baseball club all officers of Company C and the supply company have been invited to attend the game tomorrow afternoon between the locals and the Toledo Rail-Lights. In preparation for this event a section of seats large enough to accommodate 150 persons has been set aside.

Considerable interest is already being shown in the contest between the Independents and the Toledo Rail Lights next Sunday by local fans. A large number of reservations have already been received from fans that are desirous of witnessing the game. The contest will be called at Murphy street park promptly at 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

Although the Toledo team was defeated yesterday by the Pittsburgh Nationals, it was due to a bad day the Rail Lights had in fielding. Colmore only allowed the big circuit boys four hits and the two runs that they made was due to misplays behind his superb pitching. Adams, the best bet of the Pittsburgh twirling staff, faced the Toledo club and let them down with four hits.

This is the second defeat of the Rail Lights this season. The other was administered to them by the Brooklyn Nationals, who have a big lead at the top of the old circuit. The wins achieved by the Rail Lights over the White Autos and the Telling Strollers this season has placed the club in a class by itself among the semi-pro teams of the United States. Both of these latter clubs have held the amateur championship of the United States in the past couple of years.

Fans will see a number of familiar faces in the line-up of the visitors next Sunday, as a number of members of the club were formerly holding down positions on the independent club. They are, Curtis, pitcher, McGivern, catcher, Shaffer, Connie Bresnahan and Chuck Nickels.

Manager Holleran of the Independents was much relieved yesterday, when Howard Malloy signified his intention to postpone his trip to the west until after the game Sunday. He is to join a club in Dakota in the near future. With his decision to stay the line-up of the Lima team will be intact and they will face the visitors with the same team with which they have won seven straight.

Beebe Wins One More Game For Cleveland Club

CLEVELAND, O., July 1.—Cleveland broke its losing streak defeating St. Louis 2 to 1 yesterday Beebe, who in his first American league game Monday shut out Chicago, would have registered another shut-out but for an error by Evans in the eighth. Tobin led off in the ninth with a double but failed to score. Cleveland got its runs on a pass to Chapman. Speaker's triple and an infield out. Score:

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 1.—A row between Captain McBride of the Washington team and Mays, the Boston pitcher, precipitated a clash in the third inning of yesterday's game here that threatened for a time to develop into a general fight among the players of the two clubs. The police restored order and after Agnew, a Boston catcher, had been arrested and Captain McBride and Manager Griffith of the Washingtons put off the field, the game was resumed and Boston won 6 to 1.

The trouble started when Mays hit McBride with a pitched ball. McBride responded by throwing his bat at the pitcher, who lamost immediately was surrounded by a score of Washington and Boston players. Then the police got into action, but did not reach the angry knot in the center of the diamond until Agnew had hit Griffith a blow in the face. Agnew was taken to police headquarters, where he put up $60 to guarantee his appearance tomorrow in court to answer a charge of assault. Score:

Industry Boys Are Scheduled

The games scheduled this afternoon by the Industrial league are looked forward to as the best so far this season according to the latest dope. The opening game of the afternoon was between Delsel-Vemmer and East Iron clubs and started at 2 o'clock. The other was between the Garford and Locomotive teams.

With the addition of big Dave Wesby, the Cigarmakers are confident of placing their contest on the right side of the ledger. With the addition of "Red" Hoffman, the Locos are predicting a win over their opponents. The postponed games will be played on July 4, according to the agreement reached last night by the board of directors.

Pitt Lose Track Man of Class

One of the star athletes the University of Pittsburgh loses by graduation this year is Lou McMaster, captain of the track team. McMaster made a great record in the pole vault, while at Pitt, having cleared 12 feet on several occasions. He has also done as well as 23 feet 8 inches in the broad jump and can also hurdle and sprint.

LOUIS MCMASTER.

This year McMaster was a member of the crack Pitt basketball team which cleared up all rivals and won the Western Pennsylvania championship.

The remarkable thing about McMaster's feats is that he is of very slight build, weighing less than 140 pounds.

The Pitt track team, which he captained, made the greatest record that the University has ever achieved in the sport. By defeating Penn State College in the final meet, the Western Pennsylvania title was annexed.

From present indications, there will not be a rank outsider in the entire entry list, July 4, in the auto races at the Driving park. Ben Larwell of Columbus, will be in the running with his Buick and the same applies to Cliff Friend at the wheel of his De Soto and George Mowery acting as pilot of a high-powered Stutz. Ralph Ormsby of Ft. Wayne with a Monroe Special and Fred Lake of New London, in a specially constructed Everett, are the two latest entries.

Wild Bill Douly of Bluffton, Ind., always has to be taken seriously when he lines up before the starter. He has a new Chevrolet this year.

TO NAME LOAN BOARD.

WASHINGTON, July 1.—Nominations of the five members of the farm loan board created by the new rural credits act will be sent to the senate in a few days. President Wilson is considering a long list of men recommended for the places.

Fifteen Entries Signed For the Races On July 4

From present indications, there will not be a rank outsider in the entire entry list, July 4, in the auto races at the Driving park. Ben Larwell of Columbus, will be in the running with his Buick and the same applies to Cliff Friend at the wheel of his De Soto and George Mowery acting as pilot of a high-powered Stutz. Ralph Ormsby of Ft. Wayne with a Monroe Special and Fred Lake of New London, in a specially constructed Everett, are the two latest entries.

Wild Bill Douly of Bluffton, Ind., always has to be taken seriously when he lines up before the starter. He has a new Chevrolet this year.

Herzog's Fumbles Causes Cincy to Lose In Ninth

CINCINNATI, O., July 1.—Errors by Manager Herzog in the ninth inning of yesterday's game allowed Pittsburgh to win 3 to 2 despite a rally by the locals in the final round. With the score 2 to 1, in the visitors' favor in the ninth Herzog's fumble of Wagner's drive was followed by a sacrifice by Hinckman. After Viox fled out, another error by Herzog allowed Costello to reach first. Baird's single scored Wagner. The locals tallied an earned run in the ninth, but to no avail. Score:

of Trenton, at Trenton, a village 19 miles north of here, was broken into about 2 a. m. today. The robbers were unable to gain access to the big vault but did succeed in opening a number of safe deposit boxes. Just what they obtained from these boxes cannot be ascertained until the holders of the boxes make an inventory.
The robbers also obtained $40 in pennies that had not been put into the vault.

MARKETS

STOCKS DEPRESSED
ON WALL STREET

NEW YORK, July 1.—Prices underwent further depreciation today on an insignificant turnover. Pressure was again directed against various specialties, notably Industrial Alcohol, which registered an extreme decline of 4 3/8 points, with 3 to 4 points recession for some of the more active munitions and equipment. Mexicans and motors yielded 2 to 5 points at their lowest and Marinas, as well as metal issues, shaded a point or more. Rails alone were firm, responding to further brilliant statements of earnings by Pennsylvania and New York Central. Canadian-Pacific rose almost 2 points, with substantial advances in Western preferred issues. The closing was heavy. Bonds were lower. Declines, extending a few instances to more than a substantial fraction, marked the opening of the week-end session, the market remaining under the influence of the Mexican situation. Dealings were on a limited scale, due mainly to the small attendance of traders. Texas Company and Canadian Pacific were distinctly firm.

Later specialties began to sag, with especial heaviness in Baldwin Locomotive, Crucible Steel, Studer, Industrial Alcohol, Mexican Petroleum and American Smelting. U. S. Steel yielded a small fraction with 1 1/2 for Bethlehem.

SMALL SALES GIVES
WHEAT AN INCREASE

CHICAGO, July 1.—Absence of selling pressure resulted today in a decided upturn in quotations on wheat. Bulls were encouraged by Liverpool advices that the European demand for the new American crop had improved, and was continuing to broaden. Besides, some fear was expressed that the weather turned unseasonably warm in the domestic spring crop region black run might develop.

Opening prices which ranged from 1/2 off to 1/4 up with July at $1.01 to 1.01 1/2 and September at $1.04 1/2 to 1.04 1/2, were followed by a material advance all around.

Corn rose owing to a lack of deliveries and to the tightness of offerings. After opening at 1/2 decline to 1/4 advance, the market made moderate general gains.

Sympathy with the strength of other grain hardened oats. Buying, however, was only scattered.

Higher prices on hogs gave firmness to provisions. Deliveries of lard were heavy but went into the hands of packers and other big interests.

The wheat close was unsettled 1/2 to 1 1/2 net higher with July at $1.03 1/2 and September at $1.05 1/2. The corn close was nervous at 1/4 to 1/2 net gain.

The close was: Wheat, July 1.03 1/2; September 1.05 1/2. Corn, July 75 1/2; September 73 1/2. Oats, July 38 1/2; September 38 1/2. Pork, July 25 1/2; September 24 1/2. Lard, July 13 1/2; September 12 1/2. Ribs, July 13 1/2; September 12 1/2.

YEAR'S RECORD IN TRADE REMARKABLE

Dun's Review Shows Business Well Sustained Last Week.

NEW YORK, July 1.—Dun's Review has this to say regarding trade conditions:

Further remarkable progress in finance, commerce and industry has been achieved during the fiscal year just ended. Domestic production and distribution have surpassed all records, with profits unprecedented, and the enormous growth in overseas trade has placed this country in the foremost position in the money markets of the world. In spite of numerous drawbacks, American enterprise steadily reaches out to new goals, the international disturbances, while making for wholesome conservatism, failing to check constructive endeavor. Varying reports regarding the Mexican situation again cause uneasiness in speculative channels, but legitimate business has been favorably affected than otherwise. Decided impetus is imparted to some lines, such as cotton and woolen goods, footwear and military supplies, by urgent government needs that have developed at a time when stocks are limited and most manufacturers pushed to meet ordinary requirements. Because of the pressure on producing facilities, there will be less than the customary shut-downs for mid-year inventories and repairs, indications foreshadowing unusual activity in the principal industries throughout the summer.

Readjustment of prices has been carried further in certain branches, yet the recession is by no means general and in nearly all cases costs remain exceptionally high. This tends to restrict buying in some quarters and is an influence in retail circles, but distribution broadens as the weather becomes more settled and many consumers still display a marked preference for the better grades of merchandise. That business is remarkably well sustained is evidenced by the fact that daily average bank clearings at important centers are only slightly below the phenomenal figure for January. Returns of railroad earnings bear testimony to record-breaking traffic movements, while the increased dividend disbursements show that investors are sharing in the general prosperity. Greater amounts of capital are needed to promote the industrial and commerce development, and corporate financing in June was more than twice as large as last year.

ENGLISH STRIKE SETTLED.

BRADFORD, England, July 1.—The strike of wool combers, which affected 15,000 textile workers, has been settled by the mediation of Sir George Asquith, chairman of the industrial council. A compromise was accepted whereby an increase in wages satisfactory to the strikers will be granted in September.

Are You Past 30 Years?

Take Hot Water and "Anuric."

People are realizing more and more every day that the kidneys, just as do the bowels, need to be flushed occasionally. The kidneys are an eliminative organ and are constantly working, separating the poisons from the blood. Under this continual and perpetual action they are apt to congest and then trouble starts. Uric acid backs up the system, causing rheumatism, neuralgia, dropsy and many other serious disturbances. Doctor Pierce of Buffalo, New York, advocates that every one should drink plenty of pure water between meals. Every day should exercise in the outdoor air sufficiently to sweat profusely, and from time to time stimulate the kidney action by means of "Anuric." This preparation has been thoroughly tried out at his Sanitarium, in the same way as his "Favorite Prescription" for weak women and stand of in January, as originally proposed by the Employers' Federation.

REAL INTEREST OF FARMER UPHELD BY ADMINISTRATION

St. Louis Republic Analyzes Record of Democratic Achievement.

Legislation in Behalf of Agriculturists of Great Benefit.

Democratic deeds, in the interest of the American farmer, as contrasted with the republican inactivity or empty promises, are strikingly analyzed by the St. Louis Republic in the following survey of what has been accomplished under the Wilson administration:

The country's greatest business is that of farming. More money is invested in farms than in railroads or factories. Yet near to 50 years of republican domination in the field of federal government went by without any attempt on the part of the government to take any account of the farmer's business problems, except to try to persuade him that he was benefitted by a tariff on wheat, potatoes, etc., which never operated at all—on account of our great surplus of these products—except when our crops failed and it became necessary for the farmer to buy seed abroad, in which case he paid the tariff himself.

Agricultural Program.
Today the democracy has been in power for three short years. It has formulated a program of agricultural legislation consisting of eight items. It began with the intention of giving the farmers of the United States—

The opportunity to borrow money for short terms on nonperishable agricultural products. This is theirs through the federal reserve act.

A system of farm agents to develop agriculture. This was accomplished through the Smith-Lever act, which is in harmonious operation in 48 states, state and federal authorities cooperating perfectly.

A division of markets in the department of agriculture. This is today a reality. For the first time in the history of the nation, machinery is at work to organize the distributing agencies through which 100,000,000 people get their food supply.

A rural credits act. This has now passed both houses of congress, and is in conference.

A cotton standards act. This is already law. It establishes definite standards for the grading of cotton, so that buyers may be protected and commercial paper secured by warehoused cotton may be bankable everywhere.

Grain Grades Act. This will do a similar service for grain, making one set of grades for the nation, so that buyers and sellers may know exactly what they are dealing in and warehouse certificates may mean the same thing everywhere.
The bill is now in congress.

A permissive warehouse law. A bill is now before congress providing for government supervision of warehouses, where desired, so that the purchaser of commercial paper secured by their warehouse certificates may know that the products named in the certificate are in storage, are safe against deterioration, and are of the quality certified.

A federal good roads law, providing for cooperation between state and nation, after the precedent set in the Smith-Lever act, in the construction of good roads. The bill is an admirable one, and is now in congress.

This program is before the American people. Enough of it has been put through already to enable the public to judge of its practical character and sanity. Its different parts hang together like the links in a suit of chain mail. In view of its character, what are the deserts of the party which has originated it and realized a great part of it at the hands of the American farmer?

HIS BACKACHE GONE.
Just how dangerous a backache, sore muscles, aching joints or rheumatic pains may be is sometimes realized only when life insurance is refused on account of kidney trouble. Joseph G. Wolf of Green Bay, Wis., writes: "Foley Kidney Pills relieved me of a severe backache that had bothered me for several months." Take Foley Kidney Pills for weak lame back and weary sleepless nights. H. F. Yorkamp.
